
“I am the law and order candidate.”

- U.S. President Donald J. Trump

THE HALF-LIFE OF FREEDOM: RACE AND JUSTICE IN AMERICA

A CONVERSATION WITH

JELANI
COBB

Tuesday, February 7

7:00 P.M.

Jordan Auditorium

Mendoza College of Business

Renowned professor and journalist Jelani Cobb will speak and answer questions on complex dynamics of race in America.

Audience members are invited to text in questions during the event.

PRESENTED BY

THE DEAN'S FELLOWS OF THE COLLEGE OF ARTS AND LETTERS

SPONSORED BY

Institute for Scholarship in the Liberal Arts | College of Arts and Letters | College of Science | Center for Philosophy of Religion | Africana Studies | Campus Ministry | Toqueville Program for the Study of Religion and American Public Life | Rooney Center for the Study of American Democracy | Theology Department | Program of Liberal Studies | Political Science Department | Philosophy Department | Multicultural Student Programs and Services | Institute for Latino Studies | Center for Civil and Human Rights | Hesburgh-Yusko Scholars Program | Hesburgh Libraries | College of Engineering | Center for Social Concerns | Catholic Social Teaching Minor | American Studies Department | American Constitution Society
