What Is The Teach-In 2019: Jornada por la Justicia?

The Teach-In 2019: Jornada por la Justicia is a three-day gathering of a powerful network of Catholic Latino organizers, labor leaders, scholars and activists to make real change through concrete action.

The Teach-In will feature workshops, leadership tools, strategy sessions, coalition building, nationally recognized speakers and direct public action.

This year's presenters will include activist and theologian Msgr. Arturo Bañuelas; Dr. Neomi DeAnda, president of the Academy of Hispanic Theologians of the United States; Dr. Luis Fraga, president of the Institute for Latino Studies at the University of Notre Dame; as well as local and national social justice leaders. Bishop Mark J. Seitz will celebrate the concluding Mass on Sunday, Oct. 13. The Teach-In will look at the intersection of race and border politics and how we can turn back this movement of hate with a movement of love.

Why Now?

This moment in time requires bold action from Latinx leaders from across the country and across sectors to enter the public square on behalf of justice, demand an end to racism and the politics of xenophobia and stand in solidarity with migrants and targeted communities everywhere.

The Teach-In 2019: Jornada por la Justicia is an opportunity for Latinx Catholic leaders to gather at the border to collectively stand against racism, hateful immigration policy and the ongoing militarization of our communities as well as to celebrate our unique heritage and strengths.

Not only will participants learn more about border politics and human rights from the perspective of Catholic social teaching, they will also be steeped in the unique culture and history of El Paso and Ciudad Juárez and have an opportunity to enjoy fellowship with each other. The teach-in portion of the weekend will include a public action to demand human dignity in the borderlands.

We anticipate that this event will be a formative and powerful one and we look forward to your presence with us.

Who is Coordinating This Gathering?

The Teach-In 2019: Jornada por la Justicia is co-presented by the HOPE Border Institute and the Latinx Catholic Leadership Coalition.

HOPE is an independent Catholic organization that brings the perspective of Catholic social teaching to bear on the realities unique to our US-Mexico border region. Through a robust program of research and policy work, leadership development and action, we work to build justice and deepen solidarity across the borderlands.

The Latinx Catholic Leadership Coalition is a new initiative born out of the III National Symposium on Catholic Hispanic Ministry held at the University of Notre Dame this past July. This national group of scholars, theologians, ministers and community organizers is committed to envisioning the future of Latinx Catholic Leadership across the country.
